Luke 22:61-62(ESV) ⁶¹And the Lord turned and looked at Peter. And Peter remembered the saying of the Lord, how he had said to him, "Before the rooster crows today, you will deny me three times." ⁶²And he went out and wept bitterly.

Once I was in a class where we were comparing our Lutheran beliefs with these others. The discussion was quite serious as we were trying to understand how some people could believe the evident lies that were being taught by these other groups. About this time, a friend of mine raised his hand. The professor called on him, and my friend began to tell a story: Once there were three guys in hell: One was an Obeyer, who believed that he had to do everything that his religious leader said because the leader was infallible. He spoke in the place of God. Second, was a Lutheran who had been taught that good works wouldn't get you to heaven. Third, there was a Denier who believed that only God exists and denied everything else. The Obeyer looked at the other two and said, "If only I had done all that the Religious Leader said, I wouldn't be here." The Lutheran, likewise, looked at the other two and said, "If only I hadn't done all those good works, I wouldn't be here either." Lastly, the Denier smiled and looked at the other two and said, "I'm not here!"

Well, we could be like the guys in the story, but God has given us the truth, which is contained in the Bible, so that we could believe rightly. Our text is a familiar story which most of us have heard many, many times, but no matter how many times we hear the story, questions about this man, Peter, come into our mind. How could Peter, who was the first to call Jesus the Christ, the first to say that he would never deny Jesus, the one who raised his sword against an overwhelming force when they tried to arrest Jesus, deny that he even knew Jesus these three times?

Finally came the third denial, a rooster crowed a second time, and Jesus turned and looked at Peter. In Greek, the word that is translated "looked" really means "to fix one's gaze upon." Jesus did more than look at Peter; he fixed His gaze upon Peter. So often when we read about this story, we imagine the condemning "gaze" that Jesus must have given to Peter. After all, we see the result of that gaze: Peter goes outside and weeps bitterly. That "gaze" must have condemned Peter, didn't it?

No, the biblical evidence won't support a conclusion that is condemnation. The exact same word is used when Jesus "gazed" upon His disciples when explaining "it is easier for a camel to go through the eye of a needle, than for a rich man to enter the Kingdom of God." Also, the same word is used when Jesus "gazed" upon and loved a rich man; to whom, Jesus said, "Go, sell what you have, and give to the poor...and come, follow me."

We see that Jesus' gaze has to be something other than condemnation. What is it then? To understand that, we simply have to remember how Jesus treated His disciples all through His ministry. Certainly, Jesus was disappointed, at times, at how slow His disciples were learning the lessons that He was teaching, but mostly, we see Jesus in a loving relationship with His disciples. He cared for them, prayed for them, and taught them. Jesus' gaze upon Peter wasn't condemnation, but rather it was forgiveness. That's what Jesus wants to do with all of us: Forgive us. Jesus understands that "the spirit is willing, but the flesh is weak." Was it wrong for Peter to deny Jesus? Absolutely! The Law convicted Peter; he knew that he had done wrong; and he repented. The same forgiveness is available to us today when the Law convicts us because we have a God Who will forgive us for the sake of Jesus Christ.

All too often when I'm with new people, I have this thought ringing around in my mind: "If I tell you about Jesus, you will not believe me." Sometimes that negative thinking, sin, gets the upper-hand, and I don't tell that person about Jesus. For me, I know this is wrong because God has called me, and every Christian, to share the Gospel with the world.

Some years ago, I was training a fifteen-year-old girl in evangelism. Besides studying, we went out and made evangelism calls one night each week. We were at the point in the training that she was ready to make an entire Gospel presentation during an evangelism, home call. The lady we called upon that evening was a divorced mother in her mid-thirties. At the appropriate time, this fifteen-year-old girl began to share the Gospel with this woman. I sat there watching and silently praying as my trainee presented the Good News to this woman. The young girl was nervous and was just butchering her presentation. Any onlooker could easily see that this young girl was having a terrible time, but she kept right on sharing the things that she had learned and knew in what appeared to be a very hap-hazard manner to me. Finally, the presentation was over, and the young girl asked the woman if she had understood what she had shared. The woman's response almost knocked me right off my chair. She said, "Oh, I've never heard it explained so clearly before." That same night, that lady confessed her faith in Christ with us in prayer.

The moral of the story is something that each of us was taught in Sunday School and Confirmation classes: It is the Holy Spirit Who creates faith. Each of us but share the words and thoughts that God has given to us. The Holy Spirit uses our feeble efforts and quickens someone from death into everlasting life. Like God forgave Peter, He forgives me—and you—when we don't even make that feeble effort. The Gospel continues to remind us that Jesus died and rose again so that we would have a message of hope to share with each other and with the world.

Why do we do it? Some may say because we have always done it, or we have to do it to get more kids and families involved at Zion so we can keep the lights on and the bills paid. Some treat VBS like Confirmation as a rite of passage for children, others as a way to get some free childcare. Are we doing VBS for the fun of it? (We certainly have fun with the children, doing games, crafts, science experiments, and singing songs.) Are we doing VBS to indoctrinate our children to become better Lutherans? While that might be the case in some LCMS congregations, I don't think that applies to us. So why do we do it? My answer is ... to introduce children to the simple message of salvation through faith in Jesus Christ.

This year our VBS program will focus on that simple truth... read again what I wrote last month... From the beginning of time, God has had a plan to be in relationship with us human beings. We were created in His image and given a position as the caretakers of the earth. But Satan deceived Adam and Eve and they disobeyed God. Sin had entered the world, nothing would ever be the same again. However, God's plan has not changed, He still desires to be in a relationship with us, His created human beings. The Bible tells us that story, the story of God's desire and attempts to restore our relationship with Him, even when He is rejected, and cursed, and ignored, and despised. Even though sin has a hold on us and blinds us to the truth, God still reaches out to us with His love and forgiveness. God loved us so much that HE came into our world as one of us, to live and die, to break the power of sin, death, and the devil, so we could once again be free to be in relationship with Him. In Vacation Bible School this summer, the children will be looking into God's Holy Word, the Bible, to discover God's miraculous mission to save you, me, and the whole world! In the five Bible stories that we will focus on, we will learn how God has been on a mission to save us from sin. First, we will learn how God made the universe; second, we will learn of God's promise of a Savior to Abram; third, we will learn how God fulfilled that promise in the birth of Jesus, our Savior; fourth, we will learn how Jesus defeated sin, death, and the devil through His own death and resurrection; and on day five we will learn how Jesus ascended into heaven where He is preparing a place for us to someday be with Him for eternity.

The title of VBS this year is "Miraculous Mission – Jesus Saves the World." It is not too late to enroll your child or grandchild, we will make room for her or him. It is also not too late to volunteer to help us with the program, we will find a place for you. We can always use extra hands with crafts or games or just walking with the children to make sure they get where they are going safely and on time. And be sure to attend the "MIRACULOUS MISSION – JESUS SAVES THE WORLD" CLOSING PROGRAM ON FRIDAY NIGHT (June 7) AT 7:30pm! We will recap the highlights of the week with photos of the children, the story themes, the memory verses, and of course the children will sing the songs that they have learned throughout the week. EXTRA ENROLLMENT FORMS ARE AVAILABLE ON THE MINISTRY DESK.

Also, if you would like to volunteer to help with crafts, games, travel with a group, or help decorate the classrooms, contact me by phone, call/text 320-232-3108.

After discussion, motion was made by Nancy Christensen and seconded by Bonnie Gentry to uniformly label the kitchen cabinets; motion carried.
